Jewelers and Dealers in Fine China.

A Tremendous Success!

The great clearing sale of Ladies' Rochester made shoes at our house has been a tremendous success. The sizes are becoming somewhat broken and we are particularly anxious that our friends shall be able to be fitted while we have the correct sizes for them. We will continue to sell shoes originally made to sell at $4 per pair, which are worth that money now just the same as if we charged this regular price for them. The manufacturer's price to the jobber on these shoes was and still is far more than we charge you for them by the pair at retail. We are still selling them, 500 pairs in all, at the unheard of price of

$1.79 PER PAIR.

If you can be fitted now is the time for you to get a pair. Ladies with narrow feet are hereby notified that they cannot get a hand turn, and hand welt shoes anywhere for anything like this money. We have also shoes made by the same manufacturer which are machine sewed but made over the same last and even better for wear than the hand turns and hand welts for the reason that the stock is heavier. These shoes would easily command $3 per pair in any shoe store but we are determined to clean out not less than 1,000 pairs of them. We are not going to have any dull times at our store. These goods must go at once. We want the cash instead of the shoes. We are going to make you a price of on these shoes, and nothing approaching them a value was ever offered in Decatur for like money. Come and get them while we are sure to have your size—don't wait. Come now. We are not offering a few pairs only, but over 1,500 in all. These goods are strictly high grade and as good for wear and appearance as money can buy. We want you to come and avail yourselves of this opportunity to buy. We want to clean out all this stock of 1,500 pairs in one month if possible, besides all else that we may sell. We want you to buy right now. We want to make our January sales larger than any month in the history of the retail business of this store. BUY NOW.

Sunday at 12:30 a. m. the funeral of Mrs. J. S. Vowell took place, who died January 5th at her residence, two miles southeast of Mt. Zion. It was held at the Mt. Zion church, and was conducted by Rev. C. G. Wood, of Decatur. There was a large attendance of friends and relatives. Mrs. Vowell leaves a husband, but no children. She was a member of the M. E. church at Mt. Zion, and was a devoted Christian, beloved by all who knew her. She was about 36 years old at the time of her death, and had been a sufferer from a tumor, which finally necessitated an operation from which she did not recover.

Ten was a state fair struggle illustration in the Sunday issue of the Chicago Tribune, representing Decatur, Peoria, Springfield and Bloomington boys in a football game. The ball is in the center with each town hovering near. Peoria and Decatur in a dead-lock wrestle, Springfield kicked off by Decatur, and Springfield making a sneak between the legs of Peoria for the ball. Decatur appears to be holding her own in the struggle, but the outcome cannot be known until Thursday next.

COURT IN SESSION.

Lemuel Wyckoff, of Macon, is Foreman of the Grand Jury.

The January term of the Macon county circuit court began this afternoon, with Judge Vail on the bench. The grand petit jurors reported for duty, and the gentlemen were instructed by the court.

Lemuel Wyckoff, of Macon, was sworn as foreman of the grand jury. Judge Vail asked the jury to investigate the accommodations at the jail, and learn what provisions there are, if any, to separate by prisoners from habitual criminals and from persons charged with felony. The court desires a report on the point, and he may bring it before the board of supervisors.

Parities out on bail were notified that they need not appear for trial until Monday, February 5th. No defaults will be taken until then.

A number of motions were entered and the Tolstman land case was taken up.

Change at the St. Nick.
This morning Leroy T. Walton, day clerk at the St. Nicholas hotel, tendered his resignation to Mrs. Lutz and it was accepted. He is in the city, but has not yet decided what he will do or where he will go. THE STATE FAIR.

DECATUR'S AVAILABILITY AS A SITE.

Everything That Could be Desired—Geographical Center—Railroad Center—Trade Center and Agricultural Center.

When it is said that Decatur, all things considered, is the most desirable and most promising of good results, as a place for the permanent location of the state fair, the truth and nothing but the truth has been told.

Decatur is the geographical center of the state, and with the state fair located here the farmers and stock raisers in southern Illinois, who, within the last ten years, have been rapidly making that part of the state, which has been endowed by nature with many advantages, the garden of Illinois, would have advantages to exhibit their products; and by such means invite to their part of the state wide-awake farmers that it has not heretofore enjoyed. This advantage to the southern part of the state would be no disadvantage to any other part of the state, as Decatur is equally accessible to all.

Decatur, in addition to its central location, has the railroad which diverge to every part of the great commonwealth. The Illinois Central traverses the state through its greatest length passing through Decatur, which makes a direct route from Cairo to Decatur, and also from Decatur to Decatur. It also has its branches connecting with the main line that reach out east and west at many points, and the Chicago branch from that city to Decatur. The Wabash from St. Louis and Quincy and from Onisco and Danville, and also from Edinburg, all center in Decatur. The Hannibal, Decatur and Western, running from Indianapolis to Decatur, entering the state at Raven, comes into Decatur directly from the east. The Peoria, Decatur and Evansville railroad, running from Peoria to Grayville, in Edwards county, passes through Decatur and is convenient to the people in the southeastern part of the state, and also to those in the northwestern part; and also the Vandalia railroad that runs from Peoria through Decatur and out of the state by way of Paris. These roads make Decatur as a state fair location accessible to more people than the roads converging at any other city which is a candidate for the location.

By the roads running through and into Decatur one may reach over fifty county seats in the state without change of cars, and in an hour through over 400 miles and villages in the state.

Decatur, has in its electric street railway system, excellent facilities for handling any crowd that would attend a state fair on any day. The street car management is perfect. It is not excelled in any city in the state. It has handled 20,000 people in a single day, without getting nervous or rattled over the task for a single moment. Two tracks from the depot to the heart of the city and diverging lines from them to every other part, and in case the fair is located here these facilities will be extended to the grounds.

Decatur, from a city of 9,000 people in 1830, has grown to a city of 33,000 people, and has become the best business center in Central Illinois. It has 23 miles of brick pavement and is full of the hum of industry. With all these advantages it has been modest, never making any special effort, yet, possibly one exception, to have state institutions located here, while other cities that have no such claims, have been helped in that respect. But it wants the location of the state fair and it offers every advantage that could be asked, as to a proper, available, and convenient place for that institution. It is the heart of the finest agricultural country in the world, and the public institutions of officers, in fact of factious and has every modern convenience that could be desired, including hotels, water, electric lights, street cars, paved streets, and all in vigor, and withal is the only city that presents sites for selection that are near the city. If anybody thinks Decatur is not in it with two good-sized feet give her a hearing.

TO RECEIVE THE VICTORS.

Saturday evening the named gentlemen were appointed to receive and entertain the members of the Illinois State Board of Agriculture who will be with us to-morrow. F. M. Young, chairman; W. W. Linn, D. C. Moffitt, R. R. Montgomery, S. S. Jack, J. G. Imboden, J. R. Miller, D. A. Moffitt, D. S. Shella, J. R. Miller, W. H. Shaw, W. P. Shade, William Young, C. M. Hays, W. B. Canavan, G. A. Keller, V. Barker, B. O. McGee, J. M. Ciolek, J. A. Beckingham, B. Bradley, C. C. Laforgue, John A. Brown, H. F. May, John Ullrich, M. F. Kansas. This committee will meet at the St. Nicholas hotel at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning to show the board of agriculture around the city.

LINCOLN COURIER.

The state fair ought to be located in Decatur or Peoria. The first named city is the best location for the state fair. It is accessible from extreme points, north, south, east and west. When the state fair would be held in Decatur the fare would be the best Illinois ever had, and the grounds more suitable. Springfield, while being fairly accessible, has the disadvantage of being a city, which is not desirable. If the committee having in charge the task of locating the state fair will charge the task of locating the state fair in Decatur we believe the decision will be approved by the people of the state. The great Wabash extending from Galena to Cairo and Centralia to Chicago, the P. D. & E., touching the Wabash and Ohio rivers, the D. & C. and other lines, warrant the location at Decatur. The Courier is convinced of the following an investigation and a declaration first made for Springfield.

DECATUR AND THE STATE FAIR.

St. Louis Herald: Decatur is making a strong effort to capture the state fair and we hope she will get it. Peoria and Springfield are also in the field and are putting on some pretty strong arguments, so Decatur will have to hustle. We do not mean that she can't hustle, but that the nerve did, for that would not be true. We do not know of a town of its size in the West which has an equal amount of "git thereness," but in this matter of the fair it is a chance of a lifetime and she ought to afford to let it slip. The natural advantages are far superior to either of its rivals. It is centrally located and the railroad facilities are of the best. It is a railroad center and a good one but whatever Decatur may be made in this respect can easily be met. The color's indications are about all that and we believe from what we can hear that the state commission is a little lukewarm towards it and we hope they are. Decatur should have the fair.

LOST $500 IN CASH.

Peter Haley Failed to Appear in Justice Short's Court.

Less than a week ago Peter Haley put up $500 to Justice Short as a pledge that he would appear in court to-day to answer any charge that might be brought against him for his attempt to kill his wife. He did not appear in court to-day. He is not believed to be in the city. The bond was declared forfeited. It cannot be recovered. The case will go before the grand jury at once. Mrs. Haley will tell her story and the jury will probably return an indictment for assault to murder. Proof is said to be abundant. If such a bill is returned in all probability Haley will find it uncomfortable to return to Decatur.

Presbyterian Church.

Sunday was a day calculated to inspire the members and friends of the Presbyterian church with feelings of pride. The attendance at the Sunday school was so large that there were not chairs enough to seat all and some had to stand. Both of the mission schools were largely attended. There were eighty-one children in the primary class at the College Street chapel. The school can grow no larger until the chapel has been enlarged. The attendance at the Y. P. S. C. E. meetings—one at 4 p. m. and the other at 6:30 p. m.—was larger than for many past. The regular church services were of the usual inspiring and helpful order.

The music, by both organ and choir, was excellent, and called forth many warm commendations from the large congregations present. The pastor preached in the morning on "Looking Forward." In the evening the subject was, "A Character Study." Very practical and helpful thoughts were deduced from each theme, and truths for the average life of to-day were earnestly and eloquently set forth. The large auditorium and gallery were filled both morning and evening.

Honors at Peoria.

Saturday afternoon the head camp of the Royal Neighbors of America, the women's branch of the Modern Woodmen of America, adjourned at Peoria after a session there of a week. Mrs. A. T. Grant, Mrs. W. N. Andrews and Mrs. Budd Finney were the delegates from Decatur. Considerable important business was transacted at the meeting, chiefly the agreement upon a plan of life insurance for the membership. Insurance will be given those between 17 and 50 years of age. Mrs. E. D. Watt, of Omaha, was elected Supreme Oracle. Two important supreme officers were given Decatur ladies. Mrs. A. T. Grant was elected a member of the board of managers, and Mrs. W. N. Andrews was placed on the board of grievances and appeals. Only ladies are eligible to offices and the right of franchise in the Royal Neighbors' order.
